February 2020

“Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God's grace in its various forms.”

1 Peter 4:10

My grandparents introduced me to enjoying the sound of music in a variety of genres – well, more than I would have chosen to listen to myself as a youngster. I remember well the stereo console in their living room – looking much like a piece of fine furniture – the size of a cabinet – sitting in the living room. My grandfather would lift the lid on top, and pull out several record albums from his collection (33s) – soloists such as Bing Crosby, Don Ho, Frank Sinatra and instrumental works – big band musicians as well as orchestras – an Italian director, Montovani was a favorite of his and became a favorite of mine. The music would lightly filter through the house like the scent of freshly baked bread. I enjoyed listening to the full complement of instrumentalists - percussion, brass, woodwinds - rhythm, melody and descant – brought together in harmony. Singing in school and church choirs and playing the flute heightened my love of music while also providing a fuller appreciation for what it actually took for a song I enjoyed to be just that...a song. Without the rhythm of the beat the instrumentalists and singers would not be in sync, without the melody the song would be unrecognizable, and without the descant, the music would be flat and lifeless.

It is the same with the church, the body of Christ. Each of us have a distinct role and relationship to one another and with God. God created us as complimentary creatures and we, as individuals and as members of the body of Christ are a reflection of God's love. God's desire to be in relationship with us is not bound by our physical identities - but by our unique roles as we come together and work together in serving Christ and community. Paul reminds us of this in 1 Cor 12: “To each is given the manifestation of the Spirit for the common good.”

The gifts of everyone are needed; without them, something would be missing and we would be incomplete. As followers of Christ, we are called to love one another and embrace one another’s uniqueness. As a community of believers that welcomes all to the table, our minds and hearts must be open to the realization and recognition that the gifts God has given have been given to all and that these gifts are needed as we worship and serve. For an orchestra, all of its musically gifted members are needed for a song to be recognized and enjoyed. And, as Paul writes, a body must have an ear in order that the body may hear.

If we limit ourselves, our community, in the way we discern, share in and assign the work to be done, the work of the people – liturgy - we miss the gifts, the creativity, the time and talents that complete the joyful noise God intended us to make together, in full part harmony.

The work of the people, like an orchestra, takes many hands and hearts – it takes me and it takes you – each of you - and your God-given gifts. I encourage you to lift up the gifts of others and I invite you to prayerfully discern how you might share your gifts in this new year as we serve Christ as one body, in faith.

In grace and peace,
Pastor Kathy

Please note that sign-up sheets are posted on the small bulletin board in the hallway.

The large bulletin board on the other side of the hallway includes any mail we received and our shut-in list and other miscellaneous information.

Pastoral care visits are a means of bringing the presence of Jesus Christ into the lives of our community of Faith at times of acute illness, pending surgery, long-term care and rehabilitation of care, as well as hospice care. We rely on family members, friends, and neighbors to let the church staff know when someone is in a hospital or other facility; please call the church office 443-3179 and provide the name of the individual, name of hospital or care facility, and room number if known; and it is also helpful to give time/date of surgery.

Thank you,
Pastor Kathy
